

Hi there,

I saw your job posting and it sounds like an interesting opportunity!

To introduce myself a little, I'm a software engineer mostly specialized in web development with 5 years of professional development experience. I worked at Deloitte developing projects with international teams. Worked at X5 which is a largest food retailer developing supervisors system. Currently I'm working at Raiffeisen Bank in the Capital Department as a Senior Software Engineer. Most of my tech stack has been built on JS/Typescript, React.js, NestJS, HTML, and CSS so I feel my background would fit well.

Here are the URLs of some of my previous work.

Please let me know if you'd like to chat. I'll also attach a resume.

Cheers,
